CHRIST LIGHT CONNECTION

God's people are now free from slavery and on their way to the Promised Land. Yet the journey is proving to be a tough one. The people start to grumble against their leaders--and also God--even daring to say that they were better off in their former lives of slavery in Egypt! We, too, have been freed from slavery--spiritual slavery to sin and the devil. We, too, are on a journey to our promised land of Heaven. Our journey is also a tough one, as we struggle through this desert-like sinful world. Grumbling also fills our hearts and mouths at times, and we are sometimes tempted to give up on the spiritual struggle and return to our slavery--to a complete focus on temporary, worldly priorities.

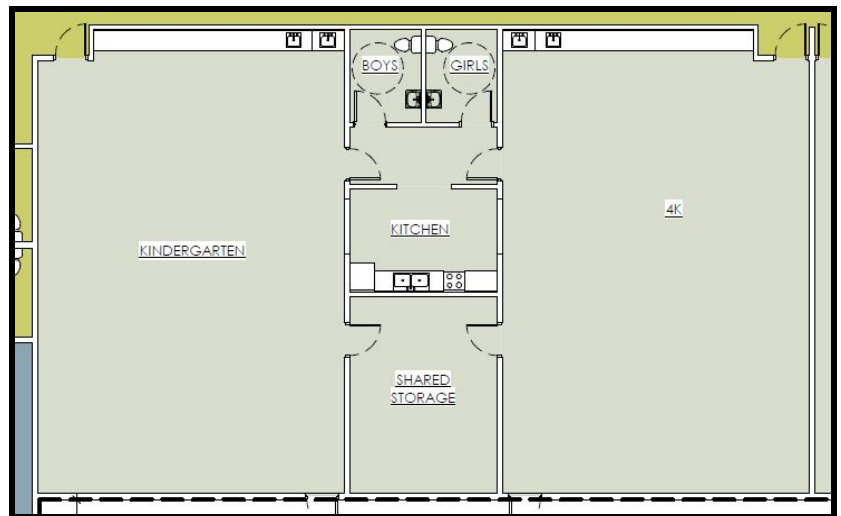

God provides. Despite our doubts, our sinful grumbling, and our desire to put worldly priorities over spiritual goals, God graciously provides what we need for our bodies and so much more. At the same time, he also draws us through his Word to see his greater blessings--the spiritual manna he provides on a daily basis as we open his Book and feast on the Bread of Life. May this be our focus in this time between Thanksgiving and Christmas, and always! God's blessings on your journey!

LONG RANGE PLANNING

Did you know? - Our long range planning committee has proposed an expansion of four early childhood classrooms. These rooms would be approximately 30' x 45'. They would function independently but share private student bathrooms, a kitchen, and a large storage area. For more information check out the links below.

Did you miss our recent open forums? Do you have questions or feedback to offer? Principal Marohn would be happy to meet with you on behalf of the long range planning committee. Call the office to schedule a time to discuss the long range planning proposal.

Would you simply like to be more organized and disciplined in your approach to money matters? Do you want to be better positioned to be generous?
